PREFACE

The Indian National Bibliography is a classified record of current Indian publications in fourteen major Indian languages including English received under the Delivery of Books Act, in the National Library, Kolkata. It has been in the service of librarians, research scholars, publishers and booksellers and those who are interested in the book world for the last 50 years. During these years, it has undergone vicissitudes of fortune with its initial regular appearance slowing down later to the extent of minimizing its active role as a significant book selection tool.

Indian National Bibliography, the prime publication of the Central Reference Library, Calcutta, made its appearance as a quarterly in 1958 with annual cumulations. This arrangement continued till 1963. The periodicity was changed to monthly from January 1964, with annual cumulations. The monthly issues had to be suspended after 1977 forced by the circumstances beyond control. But at the same time persistent efforts were made to restore the periodicity to monthly as in 1964 and to revive its services to its clientele. This revival of the monthly issues was possible only from January 1984. Accordingly, all the monthly issues for 1984-1987 & 1989-93 have already been published. In order to clear the backlog and to make the publication up-to-date, for the period from 1994 -1999 only annual volumes are published. Monthly issues are published regularly from June 2000 onwards.

Cataloguing and Classification System: As like as earlier years, this issue, i.e. January 2010 onwards 22nd edition of Dewey Decimal Classification system is being followed for the classification of documents included in the INB. The corresponding Colon Classification number (6th Edition) is also assigned at the right hand corner below each entry. INB now uses AACR-II in MARC 21 format. The bibliographical records are entered in the original language of the book and then converted into Roman Script. UNICODE Standards are used to enter the records. INB records are appearing with diacritical marks wherever necessary. As per the decision of the National Bibliography Committee, 1955, the records are included in INB in Roman Script with diacritical marks in the fields of title, author, editor, translator, compile, etc, wherever necessary. Rests of the bibliographic details are included in common English. There are minor problems while converting into Roman Script which will be taken care of in subsequent issues. ISBN and ISSN numbers are also assigned in the entries wherever it is mentioned in the document.

Arrangement: This bibliography is in three parts- Classified, Author and Title Index and Subject Index respectively. In the classified section entries are arranged by subjects according to the 22nd edition of Dewey Decimal Classification scheme. Full bibliographical information about each title is given in the following order: Decimal Classification Number, author, title and sub-title, statement of responsibility, edition, material of specific details, place of publication, publisher, date of publication, pagination, physical description, dimension, series, notes, standard number (ISBN) or (ISSN), binding, price, language symbol and Colon classification number. Names of authors, titles and other fields in Indian languages are transliterated in to Roman script with diacritical marks and then arranged in one alphabetical order in each class. The language of the book is indicated by symbol as per latest standards given at the left hand bottom corner of each entry.

Author and Title Index: If the author of the book or the title is known, look under the name of the author or the title in this part of the index. For full bibliographical details of a book refer to the classified part by means of Dewey Decimal Classification number given at the end of each author entry in the index.

Subject Index: To find out books on a particular subject, first locate it in the Subject Index which is separately printed after the Author and Title index and then refer to the Classified part by means of the Dewey Decimal Classification number assigned against each of the subject entries.

The abbreviations and their corresponding English equivalents and the language symbols used in the Bibliography with their expansions are given separately. Suggestions for improvement are welcome.
